

Professor Wai-Fung Lam

Director, Centre for Civil Society and Governance, The University of Hong Kong

Professor Lam is an expert in common-pool resource management, institutional policy analysis, public policy process, public governance, and civil society. His research has focused on the design of efficient institutional arrangements for the governance and management of public resources, a core issue in public administration, sustainable development, and civil society.